NIAGARA AND FREIGHTER COLLISION

ADVANCE GUARDS OF EASTERN MARCHERS DRIFT INTO OTTAWA

Manitoba Camp Strikers Straggle Into Kenora After Thirty-Five-Mile Trek—Party of Three Hundred From Toronto Camps for Night Five Miles Out of City

OTTAWA, July 17 (AP).—Advance guards of "On to Ottawa" marchers continued to drift into Ottawa during the day. For the most part they were stragglers, those who had evaded the Quebec ban on organized marchers on highways or railways. One contingent of thirty from Petawawa relief camp, near Pembroke, Ont., arrived via freight train.

Ottawa headquarters for the marchers and relief camp strikers at Ukrainian Labor Temple 146-150 tonight. Some 200 more were being cared for in private homes.

ARRIVE AT KENORA

KENORA, Ont., July 17 (AP).—More than 240 revolutionaries from Manitoba relief camps, awaiting here the arrival of 120 of their fellows from Winnipeg, pondered their next move tonight, faced with the knowledge that they could not linger long.

Refreshed after a good meal and an afternoon's sleep in a church basement, the men were rapidly recuperating from hardships of a thirty-five-mile trek from the Manitoba-Ontario boundary, a march that took heavy toll of their ranks. Fifty-five men were forced to withdraw from the march.

WILL GIVE NO AID

Mayor T. McLellan warned the men that no aid would be given them. They would not be provided with shelter, he said, and would be treated as transients, usually allowed to stay in town only two days. They must buy their own food, the mayor said.

POSSE CLOSING IN ON SLAYER

Washington Police Believe Hunted Man Cornered in Brush Near Sumner

TACOMA, July 17 (AP).—Not convinced that their quarry, a bank robber-slayer who has shot two men to death, has fled the area, heavily armed officers and a civilian posse resumed their search today, beating through woods and brush in the Stuck River bottom, northeast of Sumner.

Two shots were fired at a fleeing man there at 3 a.m., today, Police Chief Morris C. Nelson, of Sumner, reported. He was not believed hit and as the area was surrounded it was doubted that he was able to leave the vicinity.

ARRESTED FOR TACOMA

A man whose arrest had been asked by Tacoma authorities, Cole C. (Bud) Taylor, thirty-nine, of Puyallup, who was released from the state penitentiary at Walla Walla on May 1, was taken into custody today at Seattle. He had just returned from a clam digging trip.

Detective Captain Ernest W. Yorl, of Seattle, said after questioning him he was satisfied that Taylor had no connection with the crime. He was still held, however, for Tacoma authorities.

TWO MEN SLAIN

The Orting State Bank at Orting, southeast of here, was robbed of $500, when Cashier Leslie Stone was held up near noon on Monday, and a short time later Chief Chadwick and Patrolman Harry Storem were shot to death by the fleeing holdup man. His car was later abandoned.

BILL WOULD CUT HOURS OF LABOR

U.S. House Committee Introduces Measure to Put Industry on Short Work Week

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP).—A new bill to put industry on a thirty-hour work week was introduced today into the turbulent legislative waters Congress must cross to adjournment.

The measure, approved by the House labor committee, would create a Federal commission to license industries sending goods or commodities into interstate commerce.

WARSHIPS IN SHAM FIGHT

Realistic Manoeuvres Carried Out Before the King—Plane Shot Down

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 17 (CP-Havas).—A sea fight of the future was vividly portrayed today as the combined British fleet fought a sham battle before the watchful eyes of King George, admiral of the fleet, off Spithead.

A direct hit by the anti-aircraft battery of the super-battleship Rodney brought down one of the radio-controlled "Queen Bee" robot planes, the secret of whose operation is one of the British navy's most jealously-guarded mysteries.

Another "crashed" shortly after taking off.

GOOD MARKSMANSHIP

The heavy and light cruisers, in turn, showed their marksmanship when they made fifty-six direct hits out of 320 rounds fired at the obsolete battleship Vindictive, now a radio-controlled target vessel.

Practice firing of the battleships fifteen-inch guns at towed targets was described as excellent.

Supporters of the theory planes can cope with battleships gained consultation from the fact the "Queen Bee" actually weathered a hail of shells to pass over the Rodney before it received the destructive shell.

Every type of modern aircraft, 157 in all, took part in the

SEEKING SUPPORT TO PREVENT WAR

United States Thought Sympathetic With British Efforts to Preserve Peace

LONDON, July 17 (CP-Havas).—Predictions that the United States may send an unofficial observer to the League of Nations Council when it discusses the Italo-Ethiopian dispute next week were made here tonight, following a report that Britain has been sounding out American support to prevent war.

It was understood that an exchange of views with Washington had been carried out by the Government, and there was a feeling here that the United States was sympathetic with British efforts to preserve peace.

Drastic Economy by Everyone in France Imposed by Decrees

All Public Demonstrations Banned to Enable Carrying Through Programme Promulgated by Cabinet—Laval Gives Warning in Speech

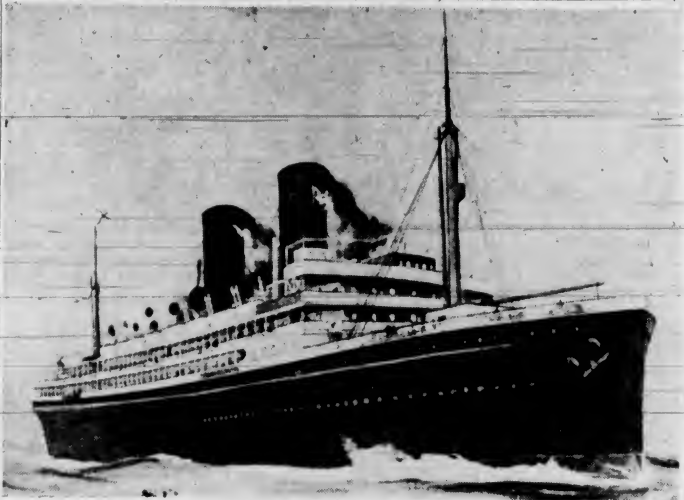

PARIS, July 17 (CP-Havas).—The French Government tonight banned all public demonstrations in a move to permit it to carry through the programme of drastic economy decrees promulgated by the Cabinet early today.

The Federation of Civil Servants, railway workers, members of the General Labor Federation, and postmen meanwhile pledged themselves to turn out by thousands in Place de l'Opera Friday night to make known their objections to the stringent Government measures which would slash the salary scale by 10 per cent.

The budget of the state has had an increasingly heavy deficit, Laval said.

Collides With Freighter in Straits

Three Hours After Leaving Victoria Last Evening, on Her Way to Australia, R.M.S. Niagara Was in Collision With the Freighter King Egbert, Inbound From Port Alberni for Victoria. The Liner Returned to Royal Roads for Survey, and the Freighter, Her Bow Damaged, Put in to Esquimalt.

No Passengers Hurt But Both Ships Are Reported Damaged

Made Thirty-Five Attempts to Land Before Smash-Up

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP).—A girl flying student, her throttle apparently jammed, made thirty-five attempts to land her plane at Roosevelt Field today before she finally plunged to earth and crashed into a fence. The ship was wrecked, but she escaped with a cut on the head. Police identified her as Jean Ellis, of Bayshore, Long Island.

Australia-Bound Liner With Antipodean Premier Aboard Holed and Forced to Return Here for Repairs—King Egbert Puts Into Esquimalt With Badly Smashed Bow

MEETING in collision twenty-three miles west of Race Rocks, shortly after 8 o'clock last night, the R.M.S. Niagara and the King Egbert, a freighter, were both damaged, and limped back into port early this morning. Passengers on the big liner, which included in the list of 150, Prime Minister Joseph Lyons of Australia, Mrs. Lyons and party returning from His Majesty's Silver Jubilee celebrations at London, escaped injury.

J. A. LYONS IS VISITOR HERE

Premier of Australia Pleased With Reception in Trip Across Canada

Leaving Canada last evening with his party aboard R.M.S. Niagara, bound for Sydney and home, Rt. Hon. J. A. Lyons, P.C., Premier of Australia, stated that while he regretted not being able to remain longer in the Dominion, he was carrying away with him many pleasant recollections of the cordial greetings he and his traveling companions had received from the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and his colleagues at Ottawa, as well as from the heads of the various provincial administrations whom he had the pleasure of meeting since coming to Canada.

He also wished, Premier Lyons said, to thank the Canadian Pacific Railway for the many courtesies extended to him and his party since their arrival in the Dominion. He couldn't say too much for the manner in which they had all been taken care of.

DISCUSSED TRADE

Concerning discussions he had at Ottawa with Premier Bennett and at Washington with the President of the United States regarding trade matters, Premier Lyons said it would be premature to make any statement just now. But a number of matters affecting trade had been under discussion. Nor would the Premier discuss the possibility of a reciprocal trade agreement being negotiated between Australia and Japan. Australia had sent a trade mission to Japan before he left.

Seeks Record For Flight to South Africa

LONDON, July 17 (AP).—H. L. Brook, British aviator, with only six oranges as provisions, took off from Lympne Airfield tonight, in an attempt to break Amy Johnson's flight record of 4 days 6 hours, to Cape Town, South Africa.

Brook's first stop will be Rome. He set a new record last fall for a solo flight from Australia to England, after competing in the Melbourne Air Derby.

Settlement and repatriation of the refugees must be carried out without consideration of their possible return to Germany, the report continued, as "the German Government has taken drastic measures against their returning."

Approximately 15,000 of the present refugees are unemployed, the report added, and from 5,000 to 6,000 with temporary or permanent homes in European countries are dependent on relief or in need of relief.

SAYS FRANCE TO INCREASE NAVY

French Naval Minister Makes Declaration at Launching of Powerful Cruiser

SAINT NAZAIRE, July 17 (CP-Havas).—France must—and will—increase her navy, Francois Pietri, French naval minister, declared here today at the launching of the cruiser Marceline.

"For the moment," the naval minister said, "my aim is to increase our naval strength and I will have the frankness to repeat that statement again."

The Marceline belongs to the six cruisers of the 1932 naval quota, each of 7,600 tons. The ships have 14,000 horsepower, a speed of thirty-two knots and carry nine six-inch guns in triple turrets.

ETHIOPIAN WARRIORS MOVING TO FRONT OF PROBABLE WAR

Way Blocked for Rescue of Nine Kentucky Miners

VAN LEAR, Ky., July 17 (AP).—Rock and burning coal blocked the path of rescue workers tonight as hope waned for the lives of nine coal miners, entombed about two miles from the mine entrance by a gas explosion this morning. The blast cut off the men, who were taking up railway track in an abandoned section of the mine, from their only way out, the main entrance, and shut off ventilation.

Put Police Onto Trail Of Coyote

SEATTLE, July 17 (AP).—Police were asked to do something today about a coyote seen lurking about the gully behind St. Mark's Cathedral on Capital Hill.

The Rev. John E. McLaughlin, dean of the cathedral, said the brush and tall grass apparently for quail, with which the area abounds. The sexton, James Addicott, had seen it several times within the past few days, he reported.

Police promised a coyote hunt.

HAIR DAMAGE HEAVY IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA

CALGARY, July 17 (AP).—Heavy hail damage to crops, in some cases reported to be 100 per cent, was caused by storms which struck several districts of Southern Alberta tonight. Areas hit were Slavey, Carleton Place, Strathmore, De Winton, Granum and Macleod.

TEN INJURED WHEN TRAIN LEAVES TRACK

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., July 17 (AP).—The Liberty Limited, crack train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, crashed into a truck trailer, then derailed, here today, spreading destruction for three blocks and causing injuries to ten persons.

The train sheared off the platform of a freight depot, splintered freight cars, and snapped and bent rails before it stopped with the locomotive and tender, overturned.

Grey Wolf Is No Match for Widow

LOS ANGELES, July 17 (AP).—Ralph Pejsa, aquarium manager, told today how a black widow spider killed a grey wolf spider ten times its weight in a death duel. "The wolf" lacked speed, deception and footwork, Pejsa said.

Practice Manoeuvres in Streets of Addis Ababa—Italy Pouring Troops and Planes Into Africa—Rome Propaganda Accuses Tribesmen of Mutilating Children in Mass Attack

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, July 17 (AP).—Emperor Haile Selassie's fighting men, clad in new uniforms, sharpened their shooting eyes and drilled interminably today as Ethiopia's preparations for possible war with Italy continued apace. A belief gained credence that the Emperor would declare general mobilization in his address to Parliament, probably tomorrow.

CRASH VICTIMS RECOVERING

Remote Lake Scene of Disaster—One Injured Trying to Aid

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., July 17 (AP).—Four victims of an air crash in remote McDevine Lake, B.C., were progressing favorably in hospital here tonight.

Pilot Everett Wasson, who brought in Pilot Howard MacDonald and a passenger, Lynch Callison, on Tuesday, today brought in Mechanic Ray Arnold and C. Cuswa, mining engineer.

Macdonald suffered a fractured pelvis, broken ribs and a smashed face bone when his plane, a biplane, owned by Captain William Strong, of Taku, B.C., crashed on Saturday while taking off from McDevine Lake.

FLOUGHS THROUGH TIMBER

He failed to gain altitude and ploughed a hundred yards through timber, the demolished plane, with its quarter, landing up in a small swamp. Callison suffered shock and fractures to his arm, hand and nose. Arnold had face wounds and a probable fractured leg, and Cuswa's arm, injured shoulder and fractured ribs.

Joe Jackson was also injured when he attempted to swim the Dease River to give aid when he witnessed the crash. He was carried a half-mile down stream and suffered six broken ribs. Pilot MacDonald formerly flew in Winnipeg.

FASCISTS ARE SET UPON BY HOSTILE MOB

LONDON, July 17 (CP-Havas).—Seventeen British fascists who held a meeting in the Camden Town section of London tonight were set upon by a hostile crowd of 600 persons, forced to take refuge in a garage, and several were injured before police reserves arrived.

The fascists were prevented from boarding a tramway to leave the quarter and were driven down the street while the crowd hurled gasoline and oil cans at them.

Fifty police finally escorted the fascists to safety.

TROOPS CALLED TO HALT RIOTS

Disorders Renewed in Belfast—Shots Fired to Break Up Crowds

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 17 (AP).—Rioting attended by shooting broke out again today between the Catholic and Protestant communities in Belfast, following the Orange Day parade.

There were no fatalities in today's disorders.

First trouble occurred at a cemetery where one of the six victims of the Catholic-Protestant fighting since last Friday was being buried. The two factions stoned each other until a volley from troops and soldiers' guns, fired over their heads, dispersed them.

Returning from the funeral, 6,000 men, carrying the Union Jack, were fired upon by snipers from the Carrick Hill Nationalist section. At Donegall Street, at the other end of Carrick Hill, there was heavier fire police knelt in the streets and poured fire into the snipers' nest.

Will Amputate Any Special Interests For Market Agency

Province Out to Insure Fair Deal for Producer and Consumer Under Commodity Control Regulations, With Curbing of Unintended Powers

IMPRESSED with the fact that abuses of very wide powers given under Federal and Provincial market control regulations to producers' agencies might have a disastrous effect on public confidence and eventually wreck the system, Hon. K. C. MacDonald will move shortly for a greater degree of provincial supervision in all schemes sanctioned by the Provincial Marketing Board, he intimated yesterday.

The object of market control, detailed operation of some of the marketing schemes already set up in one instance, the assertion was made that an agent centrally handling a British Columbia product had a direct interest in the commodity apart from that conveyed by his position as a salaried post.

Amended, British Columbia regulations to insure that no agent has any private interest in the product of late to the Province as to the

New Discovery May Lead to Subjugation Of Baffling Disease

Member of Queen's University Medical Staff Discovers New Series of Biological Products—Not Announced as Positive Cancer Cure

KINGSTON, Ont., July 17 (P.)—Medical science today gave heed to an announcement from this college city that a member of Queen's University medical staff had discovered a new series of biological products, through use of a harmless tiny organism, that may lead to subjugation of cancer.

Dr. Hendry G. Connell, forty-year-old specialist and research worker, whose discovery was announced from his Queen's laboratory, has named these products "ensols," one of which arrests the development of carcinoma cancer and "may control it."

IMMEDIATE INTEREST
A cautious medical world's reaction to new methods of cancer treatment showed immediate general interest, a little approbation and skepticism, but a tendency to withhold final judgment until details of the discovery and treatment are fully known.

Dr. Connell did not announce a positive "cancer cure," but said his conclusive laboratory findings and remarkable clinical effects in actual treatment forced him reluctantly to make public now his treatment in order that fresh supplies of cancerous tissues may be obtained and the clinical work extended.

Dr. W. A. Jones is radiologist for the work undertaken. The expense of the research has been borne almost entirely by Dr. Connell, whose work at first was done in the laboratory of the department of bacteriology at Queen's. Later, through the courtesy of Dean A. L. Clark, chairman of the research committee of the university, a room was provided in the Physics Building.

SURPRISING RESULTS
It was four years ago that Dr. Connell took up the research upon cancer. In trying to find a substance that would break down lens protein into soluble substances, he began use of the non-pathogenic and proteolytic micro-organisms. The results surprised him and success in breaking down lens protein led him to apply the principle to cancer.

Dr. Connell has found his "ensol" applicable to all forms of neoplasms, or morbid growths, as well as to the growth of such as fibroids. Carcinomas form a large percentage of cancers, Dr. Connell said. Insidious at the start and prone to attack the deeper structures of the body where they are inoperable because of the location or because of the extent of the growth before recognition, they are not amenable to methods of treatment now in use to the same degrees as superficial types of cancer.

HARMLESS IN NATURE
"Ensol," said its discoverer, may be used whenever there is even a suspicion of a malignant development, because of "ensol's" harmless nature. It may go so far as to be used as a prophylactic to produce immunity.

Dr. Connell said he now has under review detailed reports of his work and these will be published as soon as possible in a scientific journal.

WILL AMPUTATE ANY SPECIAL INTERESTS

he is chosen to sell, and to provide for provincial supervision of the initial choice of agents, are now under consideration by Mr. MacDonald, and will shortly be taken up with the Executive Council, he intimated.

But for the lateness of the season and the fact that the bulk of the product had already been marketed, the Province would have already intervened in one instance to adjust conditions not considered within the spirit and intent of the act, the minister intimated.

The suggested changes in the regulations now under advisement would make it impossible for any man to act as selling agent for a commodity controlled by the act if he were a broker or dealer in that commodity, or had other equivalent interest in its disposal. The exact form of the changes has yet to be worked out.

Victoria's Fire Loss Much Less

A reduction in the fire loss figures for the first six months of this year as compared with the corresponding period of 1934 was reported yesterday by Fire Chief Alexander Munroe.

So far, loss from fire has amounted to $73,221, as compared with $92,705 for the same period last year. The former figure, however, does not include the McCarter Mill fire, but it is believed that when the loss on this fire has been determined finally, the 1935 figure for the six-month period will still be lower than that for 1934.

GUY MARTIN DIES IN SHELTON, WASH.

His many friends here will learn with regret of the death at Shelton, Wash., recently of Guy N. Martin, second son of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, Vancouver, after a lingering illness, aged thirty-seven years. He had been employed by the Union Pacific Railway, and was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Workers.

Mr. Martin served in the Great War, having left Victoria with the 8th Battalion, C.E.F., and transferred to the 25th Battalion. Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow and four brothers—George, Port Angeles; Jack, Dick and "Babe," of Vancouver, and two sisters, Mrs. R. G. Williams, Nevada, and Mary, of Vancouver.

Medical Men Rest and Fish on Island

Ex-Police Chief of Vancouver Testifies In His Own Defence

John Cameron Swears He Did Duty to Best of His Ability—Contacts With Underworld Necessary for Purpose of Obtaining Evidence on Crimes

VANCOUVER, July 17 (P.)—Taking the witness stand in his own defence, John Cameron testified in County Court on Wednesday afternoon that he had never entered into any agreement to carry out an illegal enterprise, and that he did his duty to the best of his ability as chief constable for the city of Vancouver.

The ex-chief of police took the stand after Judge J. C. McIntosh refused a motion, made on behalf of Lou Barrack, for dismissal of the charge at the close of the Crown's case.

His Honor said that he placed the accused on his defence on the merits.

The defence of Joe Celona and Barrack to the charge of conspiracy to commit a public mischief will be presented after Cameron's evidence has finished.

CLASH OF COUNSEL
Argument on the motion for dismissal evoked a clash between Special Prosecutor Dugald Donaghy, K.C., and Gordon S. Wismer, M.P.P., counsel for the ex-chief constable.

Mr. Donaghy contended that Detective D. A. McGregor had been transferred from the morality department because he was too active in raiding bawdy houses.

"He was moved because of complaints of the mayor," interpreted Mr. Wismer.

"Are you casting reflections on the mayor?" asked Mr. Donaghy.

"I am not," said Mr. Wismer with some heat. "I think he was one of the finest mayors we ever had." He explained that the mayor had complained about McGregor drinking.

CAMERON'S CAREER
Ex-Chief Cameron said that he had been in Canada twenty-eight years, homesteaded for a time, joined the Edmonton police and remained with them nearly three years, when he came to Vancouver and was sworn in a third class constable of the city force on November 17, 1911. Six years later he was promoted to the detective department. Mr. Wismer elicited information, without particulars, that the accused lost an eye in the line of duty.

In getting information of major crimes, a policeman has to be a good mixer and has to go to all sorts of places for his evidence, the witness explained.

On June 1, 1929, Cameron was appointed chief constable of New Westminster; and on February 17, 1933, chief constable of Vancouver. Following his appointment, the Vancouver Police Commission instructed him to concentrate on major crime, because hold-ups were rampant. These instructions were repeated by the next police board, and they told him to continue as he had been doing. When he asked for additional men for morality and liquor enforcement work, he was met with the answer that there were no funds.

UNDERWORLD INFORMATION
Many arrests were made during his regime as a result of information obtained from underworld characters, he said. He instigated the Grant Garvey case, in which he got certain information from a man who used to export liquor to the United States.

Dealing with the visit to Radinsky's flat, he said it was during the racing season, July 6 or August, and complaints had been made to him by the racing association that book-making was being carried on. He had information that Radinsky was engaged in bookmaking. He did not know Celona and Barrack would be there, and in fact did not see them. Radinsky told him that he was not bookmaking. Cameron said that he had known Celona since 1920, but had no evidence against him until Celona's arrest. He did not know Barrack at all.

Discussing a trip in March on the police boat to Bowen Island, witness said that he had information from Frank Turone that United States gangsters planned to hold up the B.C.E.R. armored car and the David Spencer store, so that both were put under police guard for some time. Later he learned that some of the gang were in the vicinity of Hood

LAKE COWICHAN TO HAVE NEW SCHOOL

LAKE COWICHAN, July 17.—The annual school meeting was held in the schoolroom on Friday night when about fifty attended. W. Grosskleg was appointed chairman of the meeting. Last year's accounts were passed and the expenditure for the coming year was approved and passed.

The new superior school building has been approved and the work on it will be begun immediately. It will be ready for occupation at the commencement of the school year in September. W. Grosskleg was appointed auditor for the coming year and D. Madill was re-elected trustee for three years.

EMERGENCIES MET

Addressing the meeting briefly, Hugh Allan, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, described Conservatism as the art of the possible. Great Britain, he said, under capitalism, had made more progress than any other country since the war, despite heavy taxation and great loss of manpower.

Following the lead of the Motherland, Canada had, under Conservative rule, abided by sound, practical policies, weathering a major crisis which in 1931 and later had closed thousands of banks south of the line

Returning to the city, he took a room in the Maple Hotel for an hour and a half, arriving at his office before 8:30 a.m. It was not true, he swore, that he was there from 5 a.m. to 11 a.m., as had been testified to by Jack Liverson, former night clerk of the Maple Hotel. He pointed out that he always called at the mayor's office before 9 o'clock in the morning.

Cameron denied drinking with Celona.

His Port Haney ranch house had been built with the help of his two boys and cost about $150, the accused said. He did not know that Celona, Turone, Shue Moy or Radinsky were occasion referred to previously in evidence. Witness stated that he never saw any of the ladies before who came to the ranch that day. He explained that he had a little champagne of his own because he had stomach trouble, and there was also some beer, but nobody was intoxicated.

Referring to a second trip on the police boat in April, Cameron said that he was trying to get information leading to some unsolved murders in the city.

NO ILLEGAL AGREEMENT
He swore that he never entered into any agreement with either accused to do anything illegal in Vancouver. He instructed his officers to do their duty. He did not tell Celona to get Clarence Bancroft out of town. During his regime he had an unemployed situation and a loggers' strike. It was impossible for him to supervise the work of the morality and dry squads, he testified. He moved Officers Butler and Hudson because they were gossiping and interfering on duty, he explained. He did his duty to the best of his ability as chief constable.

declared in his speech. "Our railway deficits have only added to our debt and need to be a financier or a technician to understand that in spending more than one possesses, one reaches bankruptcy quickly."

"In five years the debt has increased from 260 to 340 billions. One does not need to be a financier or a technician to understand that in spending more than one possesses, one reaches bankruptcy quickly."

LAVAL GIVES WARNING
Laval warned that the liberties of the Republic regime could only be preserved by maintaining the independence of public finance.

"Some speak of devaluation and some of inflation," he asserted. "The devaluationists forget, or like to forget, that our money is already out by four-fifths; the inflationists ask us to manufacture false money. We prefer other methods."

"The decrees we have signed demand of you heavy sacrifices."

The decree laws, signed early today by President Albert LeBrun, called on all French citizens to contribute to the re-establishment of budgetary equilibrium and national economic recovery.

CONSERVATIVES MAKE HEADWAY

Ward Two Association Selects Delegates to Central Nominating Assembly

Ward Two Conservatives selected thirty-four delegates, and some alternates to the nominating convention of the party in the Victoria Federal riding, last evening, at an enthusiastic meeting at the Conservative Rooms, Campbell Building. Thomas A. Heaslip presided. Ward One chose its delegates on Tuesday and Ward Eight will meet tonight to name delegates.

Those chosen to represent Ward Two were as follows:

T. A. Heaslip, F. E. Coley, F. Zeigler, R. Shepherd, R. B. Baxter, J. Penketh, Mrs. A. P. Sinclair, Norman Yates, William Hardy, Mrs. W. Hardy, Miss Norah Allen, Miss L. G. Allen, William Cotsford, Mrs. M. Shepherd, William McCague, E. McCague, F. J. Millard, Mrs. W. Millard, Angus Watson, C. W. Jordan, W. T. Parke, Mrs. L. Mackenzie, J. W. Bolden, G. T. Marsh, Mrs. E. Marsh, J. Anderson, Mrs. D. Anderson, Mrs. M. L. Wilson, J. S. Wilson, R. L. Rich, Mrs. F. Rich, Mrs. A. D. Yeamans, J. D. Yeamans, Albert Stevens, S. Joyce, Miss Mary G. Russell and J. P. Carnduff.

Seven further names, as additional alternates, will be announced as soon as written acceptances have been filed with ward officials. It was intimated. The full list will comprise thirty-four delegates and ten alternate delegates.

Addressing the meeting briefly, Hugh Allan, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, described Conservatism as the art of the possible. Great Britain, he said, under capitalism, had made more progress than any other country since the war, despite heavy taxation and great loss of manpower.

Following the lead of the Motherland, Canada had, under Conservative rule, abided by sound, practical policies, weathering a major crisis which in 1931 and later had closed thousands of banks south of the line and endangered the permanent savings of the people in insurance and other holdings.

Many vivid and some unique pictures had been painted by followers of the legends and schemes of the day, opposed to steady and proven methods of recovery, Mr. Allan continued. There had been many ready to give away the other man's shoes. In the last analysis the country's welfare resolved itself into what was reliable and what could practically be done. The Conservative administration had met the challenge of difficult times with reason and strength, he concluded.

ESTATE SCALED DOWN IN VALUE

F. M. Rattenbury Did Not Leave As Remunerative Property as Was Thought

The will of the late F. M. Rattenbury has been the subject of an application in the Supreme Court of British Columbia in view of the fact that a very considerable part of the estate left by him was within this Province. The estate proves to be less remunerative in the matter of income to what might be expected in view of the list of securities held. A nominal value of $31,275 is represented in the holdings in British Columbia, while $2,302 represents those held elsewhere.

In fixing the real value of the assets, the securities were scaled down in value very materially, and an actual value of a little over 300 pounds sterling was placed on them.

Mrs. Alma Rattenbury, who since the death of her husband came to her death by suicide, was, under the will, to receive $350 a month during her life, together with personal jewelry, etc. Under the will, the second family of Mr. Rattenbury was to inherit the estate.

In view of the fact that the value of the estate is such that it will be largely consumed in meeting of liabilities which are required to be paid, the situation is complicated. Among the securities represented in the estate are 196 shares of Melrose Company of Victoria preferred and 1,037 shares of Melrose Company ordinary stock, both together of a nominal value of $10,000.

Cabinet Is Studying Japan's Demand for Trade Understanding

Prime Minister Confers With Japanese Minister and Officials of External Affairs on Threats to Put Surtax on Canadian Goods

OTTAWA, July 17.—Negotiations with Japan over alleged Canadian trade discriminations against Japanese imports, activities of "On to Ottawa" groups, and the everyday routine of administrative problems, combined again today to occupy the Government that no progress was made with numerous appointments and other detail to be disposed of in preparation for the general election.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett had a statement in a day or two explaining the situation. A short Cabinet meeting this afternoon was devoted almost entirely to the Japanese question. Later Mr. Bennett conferred with the Japanese minister, but it is understood Mr. Kato had not yet received instructions from Tokyo covering the latest Canadian communication to his Government.

IS COMPLEX PROBLEM
Japanese claims that Canadian dumping and import duties constitute an unfair barrier to imports from that country, and their threats at retaliatory barriers against Canadian commodities have created a problem of long standing and complex nature, Mr. Bennett may issue a statement in a day or two explaining the situation.

NOTED POET OF IRELAND DEAD

George William Russell Was Energetic Man of Many Artistic Interests

BOURNEMOUTH, England, July 17.—George William Russell, Irish journalist, writer and painter, known to poetry lovers by the cryptic pen name "Ae," died tonight. He was sixty-eight years of age. Although primarily noted as a poet, "Ae" was an energetic Jack of many trades—a painter, business man, organizer, editor and co-founder of the famous Abbey Theatre in Dublin. Paradoxically he was a lyrical advocate of the virtues of idleness and caused amusement when he described Longfellow's line, "Let us then be up and doing," in the American bard's "Psalm of Life" as "one of the most terrible lines in all poetry." He made a lecture tour in Canada about eight years ago. In 1912, he told American audiences the United States depression was caused by a too literal following of Longfellow's advice.

His published works, beginning with "Homeward" and "Songs by the Way," in 1894, extended over the ensuing years to his volume of poems, "House of the Titans, and Other Poems," appearing in November, 1934. His pen name, puzzling to readers, is explained by Darrell Figgins, another Irish writer, in his book on Russell, thus: "Waiting at one time a new pen name he subscribed himself as Aeon. His penmanship not all at times being of the legible, the printer deciphered the first diphthong and set a query for the rest, whereupon the writer, in his proof-sheets, stroked out the query and stood by the diphthong."

B.C. MEN MINERS IN PHILIPPINES

G. J. Montague, Retired Mine Superintendent, Planning to Take Up Residence Here

After spending the last five years as superintendent of the Balatoc Gold Mines, near Manila, in the interesting and colorful Philippine Islands, G. J. Montague is in the city with Mrs. Montague, looking over property with a view to settling here. They are now staying at the Metropolis Hotel. The Islands are being extensively opened up, mineral, Mr. Montague declared, adding that several British Columbians are working in the mines as shift bosses, one of them being C. McGee, a brother of Mayor G. G. McGee, K.C., M.P.P. of Vancouver. Miners are keen in that country are on the outlook for experienced Canadians and Americans, the visitor intimated.

INTERESTING TRIP
Mr. Montague had had extensive experience in mining, and is retiring owing to his health. In the higher areas of the Philippine Islands, living conditions are ideal, he said, and the country is known as the "playground of the Orient."

Last January, Mrs. Montague left the Islands and traveled to London by way of India, taking colored motion pictures en route. Mr. Montague left later, and several by way of French Indo-China and Java, meeting his wife in England. Picture-taking is a hobby with the Montagues, and they now have 6,000 feet of color film of interesting sights of the Far East.

manoeuvres, attacking and beating off attacks. The submarines launched attacks on the big capital ships and destroyers rushed to drive them off. Radio-controlled planes swooped and wheeled overhead, while the anti-aircraft batteries barked in defence of the surface craft. Four hours the sailor-king stood on the bridge of the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert, watching his fighting ships go through their paces. As the display ended he ordered the traditional signal, "open the barrel," hoisted at the yardarm of the yacht, signifying that as a reward for their good work the bluejackets were to have an extra ration of rum tonight.

STARS' WEALTH IS NOW WANING

Joan Crawford and Joe Brown Alone Richer Than Year Ago

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 17.—John Barrymore is virtually down to his last yacht. Joan Crawford has more jewels than "Diamond Lil." Mae West, Charles Chaplin is the wealthiest movie star. Harold Lloyd is the screen's largest landholder. These are some of the facts written into the records of the county tax collector, now that the time approaches again for collecting taxes. Many of the stars own property outside Los Angeles County, of course. John Barrymore's assessed valuation today is $58,375, of which $56,350 is his yacht, the Infanta. A year ago the gross assessment was $96,440, with the yacht on the rolls as worth $59,040.

RARE DISTINCTION
Joan Crawford and Joe E. Brown share a rare distinction. They are worth more than last year. The assessed valuation of the wide-mouthed comedian this year is $111,155, compared with $55,150 last year. Joan's figure, on the rolls, is $66,010, while last year it was $65,965. Mae West is down for $48,600, mostly jewelry, while the jewelry alone of Joan Crawford is more than twice that assessed valuation. Charles Chaplin finds the assessed valuation of $2,692,900, compared with $3,051,220 last year, mostly stocks and bonds. Harry Pickford is listed at $1,465,740, compared with $1,960,770 last year and $2,685,390 for the year before.

ALL AT SEA
Douglas Fairbanks is on the high seas, and his wealth seems as far away in the eyes of the tax collector. For the rolls show only $39,540 assessed valuation, compared with $1,065,530 last year and $1,069,980 the year before. William P. Rogers, that's how the

STOPS GERMS FROM GROWING

Biologist Finds Certain Rays Make Sugar, Deadly To Bacteria

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 17.—Discovery that sugar can take on a mysterious form of "anti" from ultra-violet light and thereby prevent germs from growing created a sensation among biologists at the conference on spectroscopy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology today.

It suggests a completely new explanation of the action of these short, invisible rays of light, particularly why they are the most lethal form of radiation known to single cell life—such as bacteria.

IS HARVARD WORKER
The sugar discovery was reported by Dr. I. H. Blank, of Harvard University.

Dr. Blank set out to learn why the food combinations on which bacteria grow freely fail to produce a single germ if exposed to ultra-violet rays before the germs are planted. He discovered it was the sugar in the food that possessed the power to stop the bacteria. No other ingredients such as water, fat or protein acquired this power of death over germs.

EXPOSED FOR LONG TIME
The sugar had to be exposed to ultra-violet rays for long periods, averaging up to an hour, long enough for tanning of skin. The rays, however, were shorter than those which produce tans in humans. They were 2,573 angstrom units, made artificially and capable of burning human skin very quickly.

Twenty-two different kinds of sugar acquired the lethal power under these rays. Some of these were fairly common sugars, including corn starch, maltose, dextrin, glucose and lactose.

ADVANCE GUARDS DRIFT INTO OTTAWA

ENCAMPED FOR NIGHT
TORONTO, July 17.—"On-to-Ottawa" marchers who left here today invaded the school grounds of Scarborough High School, five miles from here, and encamped for the night. Eighteen policemen were powerless to stop them.

Quantities of wood belonging to the school were used to build fires and water was soon put to boiling. Sandwiches and hot drinks were served to the marchers by their "food squad." A truck carrying vegetables, canned goods and bread was unloaded.

FACE FOOD SHORTAGE
While the majority rested, others used the truck into Birch Cliff to solicit donations from residents. The marchers are faced with a food shortage. There was enough for all tonight, but breakfast would be light, they said. They expected to reach Ottawa in twenty days.

Premier Hepburn said the Government proposed to "apply a firm hand to the march." He thought the march would "peter out" in a day or so.

WILL BREAK UP DEBTOR PRISON

Famous Welsh Jail With Its Torture Cells Is Ordered to Be Torn Down

CARMARTHEN, Wales, July 17.—One of Britain's oldest "debtor" prisons, equipped with a torture dungeon dating back to feudal times, has been ordered demolished. It is the Carmarthen County Jail, built in 1786 by John Nash, the celebrated architect who designed Buckingham Palace.

The prison contains a treadmill on which prisoners undergoing hard labor sentences toiled and awaited in relays as they worked the prison water pumps.

Deep down, in its dark and gloomy subterranean passages, are the cold wet "punishment cells," where a single flickering gas jet supplied the only light of the entire dungeon.

The architect, Nash, incidentally, also built a public house here, the Six Hells, in which he forgot—of all things—the staircase.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS VERDICT REACHED

At the coroner's inquest held yesterday, a verdict of accidental death was reached in connection with the death of George Jones, sixty-seven-year-old worker, who met his death at the rear of the Esquimalt Hotel on Monday while hauling logs out of the water.

The evidence of Thomas Brundson, who was working with Mr. Jones; Joseph Woolcox, who was in charge of the operations, and an eye-witness, Kenneth T. Goodson, showed that Mr. Jones was working on a handle of the winch which was used in dragging up the logs. A log, which had been dragged onto the wharf, rolled back and dropped into the water, reversing the winch. The handle struck Mr. Jones, who was almost instantly killed.

Five Families Are In High Excitement Awaiting Fortunes

Joy Is Tinged With Anxiety as Lawyers Try to Get in Touch With Executors of Big Estate in South Africa

MONTREAL, July 17.—Excitement rules among five Jewish families here at the prospect of sharing a $16,000,000 fortune they believe their long-lost uncle in Africa left them after becoming a multi-millionaire in the South African diamond fields.

Jubilation, however, was tinged with impatience and anxiety as family lawyers tried, with little success, to get in touch with executors of the reported estate or to find when and where the uncle, Harry Kozlack, formerly of Bialystok, Poland, died.

CABLES FOR DETAILS
N. L. Rapoport, Montreal lawyer, cabled again today to Polish consular officials in Capetown, South Africa, and the South African trade commissioner here also cabled his superiors in Capetown.

Although Rapoport has so far been unable to find any trace of the death of Harry Kozlack, the reported heirs continued to rejoice at their good fortune.

The husband of Pearl, Joseph Levi, spent the day in treating neighbors to free pop and ice cream.

ALL CELEBRATING
NEW YORK, July 17.—Piercing residents of an East Side tenement block dropped everything today to celebrate because one of their number, Abraham Starr, a poor iron forger, was reported the possible heir to $16,000,000.

Mrs. Starr, who is janitor of the building, went on with her work, though, as one son, Max, explained, "My mother is sick from pictures."

"I'm very happy," said Starr, in broken English. "I'm going to give a lot of money to the poor people around here and divide the rest with my children. Then we're going to take a trip to Palestine, and if we like it, my wife and I will stay there."

A lawyer for the uncles and aunts supposedly confirmed the fact Uncle Harry Kozlack did leave $17,000,000, and $8,000,000 to his sister or her heirs.

Thus far, the family has heard nothing direct. None the less, the celebration started at midnight and seemed about to go on indefinitely.

SISTERS SAVED FROM GALLOWS

Are Found Guilty of Slaying—Imbecile Brother—Both Are Adjudged Insane

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 17.—A court's finding that they were insane today saved two weeping sisters, found guilty of killing the younger imbecile brother they had nursed day and night for twenty years, from death on the gallows or imprisonment.

Catherine Walsh, thirty-nine, and Mrs. Evelyn Constable Alexander, thirty-five, who told the court "We did it for the love of our brother," were sentenced according to custom in such cases—"to be detained during the King's pleasure."

The sisters were charged with killing Sylvester Walsh on June 10 by administering gas and tablets, and they admitted to the court that "we promised our mother we would do it."

EDEN AS PEACEMAKER

LONDON, July 17.—Anthony Eden, again in the role of peacemaker, will head Great Britain's delegation to the League of Nations Council session opening July 25, called to seek some way to avert an Italo-Ethiopian war.

Other developments in the East African situation, which British officials continued watching closely, were:

1. Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary for Colonies, told the Commons that British military forces in Kenya, bordering Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland, had been "partially redistributed" in view of "possible contingencies on that frontier."

NO REINFORCEMENTS

2. Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, replying to questions, expressed his belief that it was not necessary to reinforce the normal peacetime garrison in the Sudan.

3. Usually well-informed quarters said Britain was ready to authorize arms shipments to Ethiopia, following receipt of communications from Emperor Haile Selassie certifying his Empire's need of two shipments held up here "for the legitimate use of the Ethiopian army."

4. Authoritative army circles said Anglo-French consultations in Paris, going on for several days, had not yet produced anything of importance.

RING OF FORTS FACING RHINE

French Line of Steel and Concrete Ready for Any Emergency

PARIS (UPI)—France's long line of reinforced concrete which follows the contours of its north-eastern frontier is stocked with a full supply of arms. The Maginot Line is ready for the next war.

Deputy Andre Beaupre, just back from an inspection tour of the new fortifications with Minister of War Jean Faby, said:

"I asked last year: 'When will France finally be ready to meet a brusque attack with a brusque response?' Events have now answered my question. France is ready on no longer fear a sudden invasion."

MUST BE TRAINED
Technicians must be trained also to man the fortresses now under-staffed. Two-year military service will help to do that. For France's modern defenses are not mere parapets behind which may be placed any man with a gun. They are factories of death, and they need engineers to insure production.

To the casual eye they would not seem imposing. Across the Rhine, perched on high fir-covered hills, are the forts of another age. Towering castles of medieval stone, thrust up on the highest hills, they were strongholds once—they would be targets now.

On the French side of the Rhine are seen low, sunken constructions of cement, barely protruding above the surface of the ground. In the soil of the frontier are sunk 500,000 francs of the French taxpayers' money. They are represented by those squat constructions—the lid of the hives underneath.

Approaching one of these lids the visitor hears a humming sound beneath it. That is the voice of the great dynamo far down in the fort. It operates the elevators that descend 150 feet into the earth. It runs the narrow-gauge railway that circulates below the soil. It supplies power to the mechanical hoists and carriages that bring shells from the bottom of the works to the very breeches of the big guns.

Uniforms and salutes have not been abandoned here but a suit of overalls and a handful of cotton waste is more at home. In these long galleries, tunneled molelike under the earth, men are waiting for the inevitable wave of redoubt. It may come now, when it likes.

NAMED AFTER HERO OF LINE
"From now on we no longer fear a sudden invasion."

The Maginot Line is ready. It is named in honor of Andre Maginot, Minister of War, who died in 1932. Maginot was the dominating French figure in the occupation of the Ruhr Valley and was a strong adherent of constant surveillance of the Rhineland. His life after the Great War was dedicated to making France strong. He defended military preparedness once with the statement:

"We must not brandish our sword, but we must not break it across our knees."

Maginot's service as a pilot in the war awoke in him strong militaristic impulses. He made constant demands for reinforced armaments and increased military equipment.

The veteran was a hero in the trenches as an enlisted man. Repeatedly he led raiding parties beyond the German lines. He won the Military Medal and was elected to the Legion of Honor.

COUNCIL IS CRITICIZED

Various Municipal Matters Discussed at Esquimalt Ratepayers' Meeting

"Not long ago, Reeve Alex Lockley was gratified to see the interest taxpayers were taking in municipal affairs, yet we find him accusing Bishop G. E. Lloyd of being a nuisance." Councillor F. G. Eaton told thirty members of the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association in St. Paul's Hall last evening.

Bishop Lloyd, president of the association, is out of the city at present. The chair at the meeting was taken by Mrs. A. L. Harrison.

Councillor Eaton stated that men receiving relief in Esquimalt, who showed an interest in municipal affairs were classed as "rotten apples" by certain members of the council and were considered liable to contemplate others.

FIRE PROTECTION

Dealing with the matter of fire protection, the councillor said he had heard of cases where the fire truck did not leave until half an hour after a call was received. He told of times when it was necessary to locate the garbage truck driver so that he could drive the fire truck, which he stated could not be driven over twenty miles per hour with safety due to a 100 per cent overload. He believed fire underwriters had no knowledge of these matters.

Speaking on breaks in the sewer at Skinner's Flats, Councillor Eaton thought there was no danger of infection. He was in favor of borrowing $5,000 from the Provincial Government to rebuild the sewer with Esquimalt labor. He thought it would also be good business to repair Craigflower Road and divert some of the Island Highway traffic through Esquimalt.

SAYS DRAIN ILLEGAL

Questioned about reassessment of the municipality, the councillor mentioned that the reeve, Councillor Albert Heald and the municipal clerk some time ago were appointed a committee to investigate. He did not know who had appointed them. He believed that Hudson's Bay Company property in Esquimalt would still be on the tax roll if the council had met the company half way.

Mrs. Harrison, in referring to Skinner's Flats, claimed that the open drain there running into the Gorge was contrary to law. She declared that cows pastured around the neighborhood.

Going back to fire protection, she asserted that houses insured for $1,000 in certain parts of the municipality would only receive about $250 from insurance companies if burned down. This was brought about, she said, by enormous deductions for age distance from the fire hall and poor fire-fighting equipment.

Mrs. Harrison concluded by regretting that the new Gorge beer parlor had been granted a licence because she thought it was a detriment to the district and a menace to children. Summing up the alleged injustices of the Esquimalt Council, she urged members of the association to co-operate in the fight kind of candidates to form a new council at the next election.

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Woman of Charm and Character Is Wife of Australian Premier

Mrs. J. A. Lyons, Who Passed Through Here Yesterday With Distinguished Husband, Is Good Speaker, Musical, and Mother of Large Family

SINCE she went to England a few months ago, one of the most widely-read authors of syndicated articles in the Australian press, Mrs. Lyons, wife of the Right Hon. Joseph A. Lyons, Prime Minister of the Commonwealth, attracted quite an amount of interest on her own account during the brief visit she and her distinguished husband made in Victoria before sailing last evening for the Antipodes on the R.M.S. Niagara.

A woman of much charm and unusual gifts, Mrs. Lyons has also very keen powers of observation and deduction, and her comments on people, customs and things observed during her visit to the Old Land were cleverly expressed in letters to her daughters in Australia as well as in special articles contributed to the Australian papers. Among the most fascinating of these letters was one giving her impressions of a visit to Windsor Castle, in which she calls His Majesty "a perfect deity" and the Queen "charming, gracious and entirely unaffected."

TWELVE CHILDREN

Gifted with the "ready approach" which is a traditional characteristic of Australians, Mrs. Lyons not only has a happy smile and fascination of manner, but a gift for dressing well. "I love pretty clothes," she told an interviewer. "I would not, however, recommend myself as a model. My other interests are so numerous I cannot give much thought to dress, although as a relaxation I am fond of sewing and find much pleasure in making the new babies' layettes all by hand."

This is a reminder that Mrs. Lyons is the mother of a large family. But no one would take her for the mother of twelve children, eleven of whom are living, ranging in age from eighteen years to about the same number of months.

TASMANIAN BORN

Born at Smithton, near Stanley on the northwest coast of Tasmania, she has the fair, clear complexion and bright violet blue eyes characteristic of Tasmania.

Above all, she has the driving force of intellect. In 1925 she was a Labor candidate for the constituency of Hobart, and only missed the seat by sixty votes. At elections she is Mr. Lyons' right hand. She is also a mission of most attainment. When the family lived in Hobart, she not only conducted the choir, but was organist at the Catholic Church at Newtown. She believes in religion, too, and has expressed wonder that any parents can attempt to bring up a family without it. "It faith is not the basis of family life," she says, "there is no ultimate authority to which to appeal."

GOOD SPEAKER

According to some of her admirers, she is the power behind the throne in her husband's career. "A bright and convincing speaker with a delicious sense of humor, she is much in demand on the committees of the various organizations of which she is ex-officio president, especially those dealing with the welfare of the child. She herself has proved that it is quite possible

Garden Fete Arranged by W. A. Juniors

The Junior Branches of Columbia W.A. were congratulated on the success of their united effort to raise money for their pledges, by the garden party which was held yesterday afternoon in the charming garden in the Uplands, loaned by the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Chockley.

The weather was perfect for such an occasion, the cooling breeze from the Olympic Range tempering the heat, and the magnificent trees which form such a feature of Mr. Chockley's beautifully laid out garden, afforded delightful shade. The attendance was most satisfactory, many visitors being present, and all the city branches being well represented.

ORIENTAL COSTUMES
A bright and unique touch of color was added by the Oriental costumes worn by the Junior members, who represented natives of Kangra, India, China, Japan, natives of Canada, Eskimo and white settlers, each group reciting suitable speeches to describe the missionary work being done in those fields.

In a most inspiring and impressive way, Lady Lake opened the affair, emphasizing the pleasure at seeing the interest shown as evidenced by the good attendance of friends, clergy and visitors, who were given a cordial welcome. Mrs. John Chockley, a past Junior secretary, was called upon to speak with reference to the jubilee of the Woman's Auxiliary, which is being celebrated this year.

THE CONVENERS
The tea was convened by Miss Graves and Mrs. Robinson, of Christ Church Cathedral branch, St. Mark's, having charge of the home-cooking stall, under Mrs. Mesher and Mrs. Pullinorpe. St. Alban's, with Mrs. Pimm in charge, had a dainty miscellaneous stall; Mrs. R. G. McLachlan had the needlework stall, the ice cream being in charge of Mrs. Bell, of St. Luke's branch, while the candy stall was under the direction of Mrs. Burrows and Mrs. Finch, of St. Mary's.

The Royal Oak Juniors made a pretty effect with their Japanese costumes.

Tea was served to over 150 persons, the sum of $80 being realized by the united effort.

"We are going to the dogs," said the talkative man in the railway coach. "The country is bankrupt, and the outlook is blacker than ever. Is there, I ask, one bright spot anywhere?"
"There is," replied the victim, emphatically.
"And, pray, what is it?" asked the pessimist.
"That I'm getting out at the next station."

STORIED SPOTS FROM SEA TO SEA

THE HOME OF "EVANGELINE"

IN 1755 there occurred in the little church at Grande Pré, on beautiful Minas Basin, one of the most poignant scenes in history. Some 400 men and youths, most of the male population of the district, had gathered at the command of Colonel John Winslow, New Englander, in command of the British troops. There he read to them, through an interpreter, the decision of Governor Lawrence and his council, as it used to serve the early residents, meant expatriation for all Acadians. As the peasants slowly realized the full import of the fatal words, even the stern soldier was affected by their stupefaction and grief.

Where the ancient Acadian church once stood another building, of 400 men and youths, most of the male population of the district, had gathered at the command of Colonel John Winslow, New Englander, in command of the British troops. There he read to them, through an interpreter, the decision of Governor Lawrence and his council, as it used to serve the early residents, meant expatriation for all Acadians. As the peasants slowly realized the full import of the fatal words, even the stern soldier was affected by their stupefaction and grief.

Within the little park, carefully preserved as one of Canada's most precious historic sites, lies also the famous Evangeline's well, restored now to some semblance of its former glory. As it used to serve the early residents, meant expatriation for all Acadians. As the peasants slowly realized the full import of the fatal words, even the stern soldier was affected by their stupefaction and grief.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

PLANE READY TO TAKE OFF

Soviet Russia's Flying Ace
Poised for Flight to San Francisco

MOSCOW, July 17 (AP).—An airship, floating at a height of 300 feet, today hauled up a passenger from the ground with the aid of a cable and hook.

The hook and cable previously had been used successfully in loading and unloading freight, but this was the first time the apparatus had been employed with human cargo.

A Red army soldier volunteered for the experiment, and was lifted aboard the airship ten minutes after he had been yanked from the ground.

Levanevsky said he expected the 6,000-mile non-stop flight, if successful, would take sixty to seventy-two hours.

"I have thoroughly examined the plane and its (single) motor," he added, "and they are in perfect condition."

Levanevsky, who gained international prominence and the title "Hero of the Soviet Union" in 1933, when he flew to rescue James J. Matern, American round-the-world flyer, forced down on the frozen wastes of Anadir, flew his mystery plane over Moscow this afternoon.

He was too high, however, for accurate inspection of the ship, and hence reports that the plane was the same low-winged monoplane in which the Soviet pilot, Gromov, set what was claimed here to be a world distance record over a closed circuit last autumn, flying back and forth between Moscow and Krasnodar, could not be confirmed.

The machine has long thin glider wings, the wing spread being thirteen times the width. It was designed by A. N. Topoloff, designer of the ill-fated monster ship, Maxim Gorky, who recently returned from the United States to superintend the construction of sixteen new planes of the Gorky type.

BUILT SECRETLY
The ship Gromov used is powered by the Soviet-built motor called "M-34," said to develop 750 to 900 horsepower. It has never been submitted to public inspection. Its identification letters are "DR."

While the ship is not speedy, it is strong on endurance and can carry much fuel, enough, observers believe, for Levanevsky to fly the 6,000 miles across the North pole and Northwest Canada, and incidentally, break the non-stop distance record of 5,653 miles, from New York to Hayak, Syria, set by Paul Godes and Maurice Rossi in 1933.

ITALIAN FLYER MADE NEW SEAPLANE RECORD

ROME, July 17 (AP).—Mario Stapani reported today he bettered the world's distance record for seaplanes when he landed at Berbera, British Somaliland, after a flight of 4,900 kilometers (3,044 miles) from Trieste.

The standing record of 4,300 kilometers was held by France.

RIVALRY FOR OLD VESSEL

San Francisco and Honolulu
Interested in Star of Finland

An added impetus has been given the San Francisco movement to preserve the historic old bark, Star of Finland, for posterity as a memento of the time when San Francisco Bay was a forest of masts, and doughty old sea dogs swaggered up and down the Embarcadero, proud of the part they played in the development of a great city and a great trade.

Advices received in the California port from shipping circles in Honolulu indicate a similar sentiment to preserve a sailing ship in that port, and to make things more interesting. It is discovered that the Star of Finland is also the very ship that propounded the idea in that part of the world to desire to preserve.

The leader of the Honolulu contingent is Ray Coll, Jr., marine editor of The Honolulu Advertiser, who reminds his readers that the Star of Finland is in reality an Hawaiian ship. She was built at Bath, Maine, by Sewall's for Hackfeld & Company in 1890. She was originally christened, Kalulani, and operated for years from San Francisco to Honolulu in the sugar trade. It was not until steam drove windmills from the seas that she was sold by Hackfeld to the Alaska Packers, the present owners, who used her for years in the salmon industry.

NO TIME TO LOSE
The Kalulani was one of the last ships to fly the Hawaiian flag, and so it is not altogether surprising that residents of the islands should want her as their particular memento. However, she still would be just as effective for San Francisco and the Exposition of 1938, Shipping Register of San Francisco points out, and it is urged by marine men that her acquisition be not put off any longer, because if the Honolulu people get her, San Francisco will never have an opportunity to preserve such a distinguished vessel as a reminder of the days when "iron men sailed in wooden ships."

RAIL AGROUND ON MUD BANK

Ss. President Hoover Fast
For Several Hours in Japan Sea

MOJITO, Japan, July 17 (AP).—A ground for three hours on the mud banks at the entrance of Japan's inland sea, the Dollar liner President Hoover was refloated this evening without damage.

The 21,900-ton steamer proceeded to Kobe, 300 miles distant, where she was bound from Shanghai when she ran aground at 4:20 p.m. (11:20 p.m. Tuesday, Pacific Standard Time). Tugs put out from Moji shortly after the liner struck and pulled her off at 7:40 p.m. (2:40 a.m. Pacific Standard Time). Her passengers were not endangered.

The President Hoover was on her regular return trip from Manila in the Dollar service between the Pacific Coast and the Orient.

Dutch Air Liner
Crashed on Beach
And Later Burned

BUSHIRE, Persia, July 17 (AP).—An air liner employed on the route between The Netherlands East Indies and The Netherlands, forced down on a beach six miles from here, crashed today when it attempted to take off again and was destroyed by fire. The eleven occupants, including seven passengers, escaped unhurt.

The 21,900-ton steamer proceeded to Kobe, 300 miles distant, where she was bound from Shanghai when she ran aground at 4:20 p.m. (11:20 p.m. Tuesday, Pacific Standard Time). Tugs put out from Moji shortly after the liner struck and pulled her off at 7:40 p.m. (2:40 a.m. Pacific Standard Time). Her passengers were not endangered.

Island Visitors Welcomed

LOW RAILWAY FARE WILL BRING MANY TO CITY TOMORROW

Special Rates on E. & N. Will Attract Up-Island Residents to Victoria—Many Will Make Trip North—Railway Journey Holds Great Scenic Charm

TOMORROW morning every station on the E. & N. Railway will be the scene of unusual activity as Vancouver Island residents flock to take advantage of the "bargain fares" offered by the company. These special prices are available going on July 19 and 20, and the tickets are good for the return trip, July 21 to 23.

CHEAPER THAN GASOLINE
On these dates the cost of travel on the line has been reduced until it is actually cheaper to go by train than it is to pay for the necessary gasoline which would be used in automobile transportation to the destination. Hundreds of residents up and down the island are expected to take advantage of the unusual offer, either in visiting friends or relatives in the country or to make a trip to the capital. To those without their own automobiles, it gives a first-rate opportunity to get away from their own district for a few days at nominal cost, and to those who travel the roads frequently it opens a new scenic route from Victoria to the terminus of the line.

TO VISIT CITY

Undoubtedly many Up-Island residents will welcome the chance to spend a few days in Victoria, and a big response is expected. Victoria merchants have prepared many special values to greet the visitors and are ready to serve them according to their needs. Hotel and resort proprietors are ready to offer them splendid accommodation and many varied attractions for their amusement and entertainment.

Even those who know the Island Highway will find new attraction by rail. Following the general direction of the highway and meeting it at every important spot, yet the railway gives a fresh perspective to the trip and a new angle to scenic beauties. High up over the Malahat a magnificent view of Finlayson Arm is obtained ere the line turns inland to skirt the blue waters of Shawnigan Lake. A splendid idea of the farming lands of the island can be gained from the train windows.

In the days before the advent of motor travel, the most advantageous location for a home was close to the railway, and consequently some of the best and oldest established farms are beside the right-of-way. Along the fertile Cowichan Valley, with glimpses of lake and sea, the railway leads through Duncan, Chemainus, site of the famous salmon cannery, Ladysmith, and on to Nanaimo.

BRANCH LINE

At Parksville, thirty miles north of Nanaimo, is the junction where the branch line turns off to Alberni and Port Alberni via Cameron Lake. From this terminus it is but a short distance to such beauty spots as Sproat Lake and Central Lake or a trip down the Alberni Canal. Famous Qualicum Beach is but a few miles north of Parksville, and from there the line leads to Cumberland and Courtenay, the terminus of the main line.

No mention has been made of the myriad beauty spots along the way. Ideal for camping or picnic parties, served by modern and up-to-date camps. A trip Up-Island by the E. & N. Railway is one that gives the visitor a comprehensive panorama of Vancouver Island from a vacation viewpoint as well as one of industrial and agricultural interest.

What Today Means

"CANCER"

If July 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m., and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 4:45 to 6:45 p.m., and from 10:45 p.m. until midnight.

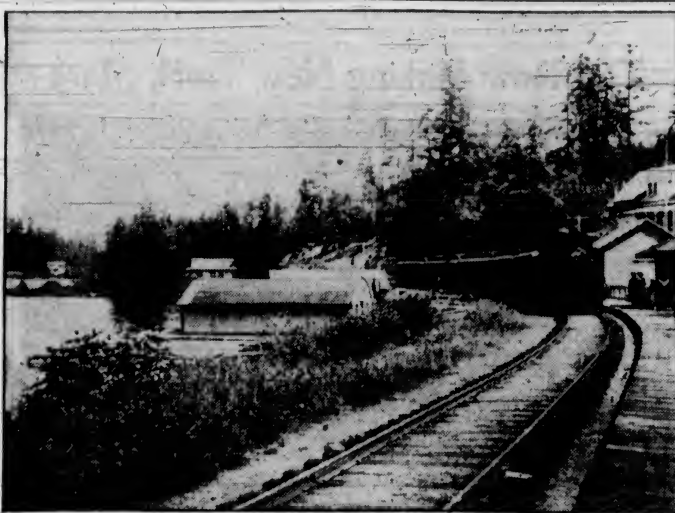

Do not permit a friend to persuade you to do something against your will. It might pay you to practice forbearance this day, especially if you encounter a person who is a decided bore, as his or her friendship is likely to prove of far greater value than you think. New business policies must be carefully considered this day before they are adopted or put into practice. If they are to work out satisfactorily, be sociable, for through friendly contacts your interests are likely to be advanced, and a monetary gain may result. Any form of social activity should be very successful. Married and engaged couples and those engaged in relationships should avoid making hasty decisions in matters deserving serious consideration.

If a woman and July 18 is your birthday, your ability to judge people will save you from making many mistakes. You love good, wholesome fun, and your wit probably helps greatly to make any social gathering more enjoyable. People, as a rule, do not hesitate to confide, as well as seek your advice on matters of a personal nature. Your analytical mind should qualify you to do work of a scientific, historical research or legal nature. Disorderliness is probably one of your pet aversions. Guard against allowing envy to stir up antagonistic feeling, especially where a friendship is involved. Chemistry, law, romantic historical writing, teaching, lecturing and social welfare work may afford you remarkable opportunities to demonstrate just what you can do. You should be very happily married.

The child born on July 18 usually, when it reaches its majority, displays an unmistakable talent in some very definite line of activity. It might be a serious mistake to try to divert its mind in some other direction.

If a man and July 18 is your natal day, you should have excellent taste, recognized powers of discernment, and a great deal of discretion. Politics, the literary field, art, education, not only of words but deeds. For three years where he been working, without pay, on the

New York Day by Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 17.—There's an increasing faith in the value and power of an aristocratic name. Especially in the theatre and radio world. Such believers declare it would be impossible for Katharine Cornell to be the success she is had she a name such as say Maggie McSwain.

To my notion the most vocal sounding name in the amusement world is that of the comedian on the screen—Sterling Holloway. In the theatre there has never been a more commanding moniker than George Broadhurst. Nevys McMein, born Moran, got her name from numerology. It has distinction.

Most dignified of special names for women are Eselle, Pauline, Hortense and Elaine. Pretty names, Elsie, Lucy and Lily become ridiculous when a woman reaches seventy. Think of an old lady named Billie Burke! The most beautiful feminine name to me is Charlotte Bronte. The unreal name is Padric Colum.

The name most aristocratic are those given to Anglo-Saxons, when they use the mother's maiden family name. That is Ford, Parker, Ellis, etc. Men named Fortesque and Devereaux make most of us stand up and shoot our cuffs. A name that fits perfectly is that of the ex-polo player, Larry Waterbury.

Speaking of George Broadhurst, he is still around, popping in at the Lamb and Players at intervals and going up the gangplank seasonally for Europe. He's more amiable, his friends say, with the years, and his fund of stories is inexhaustible. He takes a corner table in a club around midnight with old cronies where his yarns are a contagious patter, quip after quip. But he has one fault. He drops his voice when he comes to the point. Everybody laughs but nobody dares ask: "What was that last line?"

One of the recent Broadway stories concerned the Frenchman walking the streets of London studying English, trying to pronounce through, rough, cough, hiccup, though, and through. He happened to look up and saw an electric sign. "Cavalcade, Pronounced Success!" So he gave it up and went back to Marseilles.

Some historians of the times should write down with a diamond pen in gold ink the name of Elaine Swenson as a 100 per cent American, not only of words but deeds. For three years where he been working, without pay, on the

INSURANCE MEN TO MEET SOON

Fire Agents Will Hold Annual Session on July 24 at Pacific Club

The annual meeting of the Victoria District Fire Insurance Agents' Association will be held on Wednesday, July 24, at 12 o'clock noon in the Pacific Club. It was announced yesterday by Francis F. Pait, secretary.

Luncheon will precede the business meeting, which will, in turn, be followed by the annual golf tournament for the B. S. Day & Son Challenge Cup. The cup, which is at present held by T. S. McPherson, will be up for competition at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club.

At the meeting officers for the year will be elected and reports from the retiring executive presented. Members will ballot for president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and five other members of the executive committee. The president and secretary-treasurer will submit reports of the past year's activities.

A large number of guests have accepted invitations to the gathering and include men from the Mainland and Up-Island points. They will also participate in the golf tournament. The tournament is being arranged by John L. Mara and Colonel F. B. J. Stephenson. Those members planning to play are asked to communicate with these officers as soon as possible.

Werber drove in four runs and Rick Ferrell drove in three more with a single, double and a homer.

Bob "Lefty" Grove gained his eleventh win in the second game, when Joe Cronin drove in all of the Boston runs. "Bing" Miller, tripped in the second and scored on the relief catcher's long fly, and two more runs came over in the fourth when Berg singled with the bases loaded.

MANY EVENTS ARE PLANNED FOR NATATORS

Heavy Schedule Faces Local Swimmers—Olympic Fund Started

Plans for a dance to be held on Friday evening, August 2, at the Crystal Garden to raise funds to send Victoria swimmers to the Olympic trials in the East next Summer occupied an important place on the agenda of the Vancouver Island Swimming League at their regular meeting held recently.

The Olympic fund, headed by a donation from the Pacific Swimming Club, will be added to during the next season to furnish means of sending a strong Victoria contingent of swimmers to take part in the Olympic trials. Plans for a selection committee have already been discussed but nothing concrete has been done.

W. F. Hyslop, president of the league, stated that Monica Trump, a S.S.C. pre-entrance member, Molly Wallis, Pacific Club flash, as well as other material, which is shaping up nicely at the present time, would in all probability be sent East. "We would like to send a large team East," he said, "but this depends, of course, on the money available."

Appointment of Mr. Hyslop as Vancouver Island representative of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association was also confirmed at the meeting on receipt of a letter from British Columbia headquarters in Vancouver. Victoria will now be able to settle a number of matters which heretofore had to be referred to Vancouver for action.

Local natators were assured of plenty of competition in the next few months when a swimming calendar for the next six weeks was read.

On July 25, there will be a swimming gala and regatta at Qualicum Beach, while West Vancouver will hold the British Columbia Junior championships as well as the Pacific Coast international championships, on Saturday, July 27. On the same date, the Shawanigan Lake Athletic Association will stage their annual regatta, to which Victoria swimmers have been invited. August 3 will be the annual triathlon swim, while on the evening of August 6, a gala will be held at the Crystal Garden in connection with the Dominion convention of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association. On August 7 and 8, a championship meet will be held at Kelowna, while two days later, on the tenth, the Whistler mile British Columbia championship will take place at Bowen Island.

The committee to look after arrangements for the Olympic fund was named as follows: Chairman, W. F. Hyslop; advertising and publicity, E. R. Peffer; posters, etc., Colin MacPadden, and tickets, William O. Findlay.

LAWSON LITTLE CHANGING GRIP

British Champion Home and Broken—To Take Lessons From Tommy Armour

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—W. Lawson Little Jr. is home and virtually broke today.

He came back from England with his second British amateur golf crown, but rode in a third-class cabin over the churning propellers of the Mauretania.

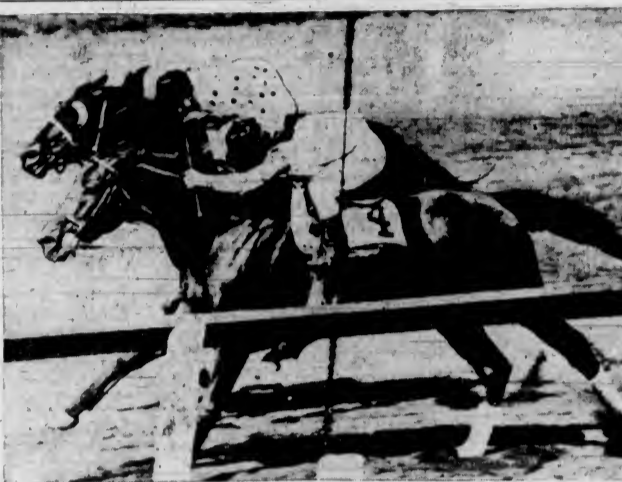

He admitted he traveled third-class as a matter of financial expediency. He saved $22 a day, he said.

The chunky youth who holds the American amateur crown as well as the British refused to talk about his conquest in England. If there were any laurels to bestow, he handed them by inference to Tommy Armour, of Chicago.

He's going to the Mid West city, he said, to have Tommy correct his grip in a week of golf lessons.

Little said he didn't intend to play in any tournaments or exhibitions before September 9, when he will defend his American championship at Cleveland.

Top Row Making New Track Mark

A. A. Baroni's Top Row beats out Vicar by a neck, and equals the track record of 1:51 to win the Empire City Derby, feature race at the Empire City track, N.Y. He paid 6 to 1 in the betting and collected a $7,990 purse for his owner. Jockey Langdon gave the winner a good ride, closing rapidly from far back and scoring in the last few strides. Only one placed third with Singing Wood, the favorite, disappointing the fans by coming a poor fourth.

Mid-Week Cricket Loop Honors Won by Five C's

Churchmen Defeat Hudson's Bay, 178 to 105, in Deciding Game of Payne Cup Series—Smith and N. Tyrrell Bat Well

Five C's, midweek cricket eleven, yesterday captured the Payne Cup series when they defeated the Hudson's Bay, 178 to 105, at Beacon Hill Park in the deciding fixture.

Playing a strong game all season, the churchmen have only tasted defeat once in this competition.

Going to bat first, the Hudson's Bay were all out for 105, when their batsmen, with the exception of M. Turner, were unable to solve the bowling of Five C's trundlers. Turner hit out at everything and put on a well-played sixty-six before being caught by Adie off Smith's bowling. His score included eleven fours.

Wickets fell easily when the Five C's went to bat, with five men out for the slim total of fifty-three runs. Comley and Smith stepped into the game at the critical moment and ran the score of 135 before Comley was caught out by N. Tyrrell, who made a superb catch. N. Smith, churchmen's skipper, batted safely for sixty-six and retired. His score, like Turner's, of the Hudson's Bay, included eleven fours.

Smith turned in a fine performance with the ball, disposing of five Hudson's Bay batsmen for the small total of twenty-nine runs. Adie took two wickets for twenty-eight runs.

And Shrimpton's like number for forty-six runs.

The scores:
Hudson's Bay: Turner, c Adie, b Smith 66; M. Turner, c Smith, b Shrimpton 6; G. Wilkin, b Shrimpton 5; N. Tyrrell, c Passmore, b Smith 4; E. Oakman, c Smith 4; Petch, c Butterworth, b Smith 0; Jones, run out 5; Gardner, b Adie 1; Napper, b Adie 0; Hopkins, not out 0; Extras 2. Total 105.

Wilkin, c Petch, b F. Tyrrell 7; Austin, hit wicket, b Gardner 15; Nixon, not out 7; Vaughan, not out 0; Extras 8. Total (for nine wickets) 178.

BOWLING ANALYSIS:

Remember When (Twenty-Five Years Ago)

It all happened in the fifth inning last night when the Beacon Hill, the league leaders, ran up against the Premier on the baseball diamond at the Hill and, after seven innings of glorious ball, went down to defeat to the tune of Prides 8, Beacon Hill 5.

Up, in the end of the fourth the Hill had nothing to their credit except playing next to errorless ball. Then commenced the doings. First of all the eagles took upon themselves to bat. Steele, the younger, out of the box. Ed is at present visiting with friends at Shawanigan Lake, and to obtain the next best, the Hill's manager put Steele, Jr. in the same position which his brother usually occupies.

When he was forced to retire through the batting rally of the proud ones, Townsley, who was playing out in the centre field, was called to the rescue, but his aid was not sufficient to break the winning streak of the Prides. Eight men hit safely in the fifth and five runs were jotted down to their credit.

It is a blue look-out for the baseball fans. All who take an interest in the great American game were looking forward rather keenly to the advertised last Saturday's match with the Spaldines, of Seattle. The announcement at the last moment that it was postponed was a keen disappointment. Now, to cap the climax, comes the news that Wattle's pets are going away for this week-end, having made arrangements for a couple of games with Snohomish at Everett.

It has been a brutal year for players of form and while D. Duce looks a cinch on paper, Ethiopia can turn out to be another Joe Louis.

OSWALD BEATEN IN FIRST APPEARANCE BY BERKELEY YOUTH

Ranking Star From California Eliminated by Townsman in Three Sets, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4—Jean Milne Is Lone Canadian Left in Women's Singles Competition

VANCOUVER, July 17 (AP)—United States tonight was assured of retaining two major Western Canada grass courts tennis titles and a third was practically certain to remain in the South, as California and Oregon net stars took over complete control of the men's singles and doubles events and a lone Canadian was left to battle three Americans in the women's singles.

Led by young Paul Newton, of Berkeley, who sprang the only upset of the day by eliminating World Champion, fellow townsman and top-ranked player in the draw, in a second round match, seven Californians and a youthful net star from Oregon marched into the quarter-finals of the men's singles.

After taking the measure of the favored Oswald, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, Newton romped through his match with Cecil Sharpe, Vancouver, 6-2, 6-2, to enter the quarters.

Oswald laid his defeat to a two-day train journey from Denver, where he lost last Sunday to Jack Tidball, of Los Angeles, in the final of the Colorado men's singles.

BENNETT ADVANCES
Dick Bennett, of Berkeley, who with Newton holds the American inter-collegiate doubles title, scored a three-set victory over Charles Weisner, Berkeley, to enter the quarters. The scores were 5-7, 6-1, 6-3.

Gene Smith, another Berkeley racketeer and associate professor at Stanford University, defeated Ray Casey, veteran San Franciscan, 8-6, 6-2, to gain a quarter berth with Howard Blethen, San Jose, who downed Doug Cameron, Vancouver, 7-5, 7-5.

Bob Pommer, yesterday's conqueror of Mel Drans, advanced in the lower half of the quarter brackets with a 7-5, 7-5 victory over Walter Haas, San Francisco.

In other fourth round matches, Wayne Sabin, Portland, defeated Jack Brown, Vancouver, 6-3, 3-6, 6-0; John Law, Pasadena, downed Lloyd Budge, San Francisco, 7-9, 6-4, 6-1, and John Murio, San Francisco, won from Ben Neiden, Berkeley, 6-2, 7-5.

Bennett and Newton teamed up to defeat Cecil de Mille and Jack Muir, of Vancouver, 6-2, 6-3, to enter the quarters of the doubles as favorites.

Budge and Muir gave Hana and Don Lawrie, Berkeley, a 6-4, 6-4, beating to win second spot in the quarter brackets.

Other quarter-finalists include Casey and Law, Blethen and Neiden, Smith and Drans, Pommer and Kelly, Oswald and Weisner, and Cooke and Sabin.

JEAN MILNE WINS
Jean Milne scored a three-set triumph over Mrs. May Haggart.

BIG REGATTA BILLED TODAY

National A.A.O. Championships Scheduled—Canadian Is Entered

PRINCETON, N.J., July 17 (AP)—Minus the expected European competition but bringing together the crack club oarsmen of this country and Canada, the national A.A.O. championship regatta begins on Lake Carnegie, Princeton University course, tomorrow. Major title events will be held Saturday and Sunday to conclude the four-day programme.

Challengers for the singles scull crown worn by Princeton's Winton, top rower had brisk workouts today in preparation for a preliminary event, the association singles, tomorrow. Algenon Fitzpatrick, of the Maita B.C. Philadelphia, and Roger Bates, of the Union B.C. Boston, are backed in the first heat, with John Coulson, Canadian champion, and Danny Barrow, of the Penn A.C., drawn in the second heat.

Al Vogt, of Philadelphia, a former champion, is considered Rutherford's main rival for the national title and possession of the Philadelphia Gold Cup, emblematic of sculling honors. Vogt represents the Penn A.C. He also is entered in the quarter-mile dash.

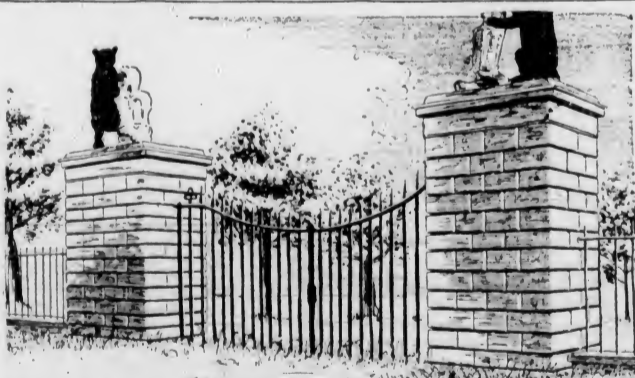

Saturday's eight-oared feature is expected to see the Penn A.C. crew challenged strongly by the New York Athletic Club. The Penn boatload has not been beaten in club competition in recent years. It lost to the California crew in the 1932 Olympic trials by an eyelash and was beaten this Spring by Princeton's Varsity eight.

ENGLISH CRICKET
LONDON, July 17 (AP)—At the close of play in the Gentlemen-Players cricket match today, at the Oval, the Gentlemen were all out for 218 runs. When stumps were drawn the Players had scored 135 runs for four wickets.

RAY CASEY
VETERAN San Francisco tennis player, who will take part in the Canadian championships here next week on the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club at the Willows, Casey has played here several times before and is highly rated by Victorians. He has won several titles in the Northwest in past years, and will attempt to pick up some of the crowns on the Port Street courts. A large contingent of Americans will be in the city during the week and, therefore, the brand of tennis is expected to be of a high caliber. Most of the stars competing in the Western Canada tournament in Vancouver this week will be over here.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION

BISLEY CAMP, Eng., July 17.—Balked up to now, Canadians put on a fine display of marksmanship today that saw Sgt. Matthew Penman, of Montreal, winning the Bronze Medal and Badge in the first stage of the classic King's Prize and leading nine other Canadians directly into the second stage of the big shoot on Friday.

Coming to the critical closing stages of the great Empire meeting of the National Rifle Association, the Canadians shook off the jinx and showed themselves ready to defend the historic trophies they won a year ago and to put up a sturdy battle for the King's Prize itself.

Sgt. Penman equaled the record for the first stage of the King's Prize by posting 104 out of a possible 105 to take the Bronze Badge. He had perfect 35's at the 200 and 300-yard distances and lost only a point on the last range, 600 yards. Scores of 98 were good enough to qualify for the second stage, limited to the best 300 out of the 1,052 marksmen from all over the British Commonwealth, who went into the great match today. Ten Canadians had this score or better, and three more will shoot off with 102 other men, all having scores of 97, for forty-five remaining places in Friday's continuance.

WON AT OTTAWA

Penman, an Old Countryman, now with the Canadian Grenadier Guards, won the Governor-General's and the Bankers' Prizes at the D.R.A. at Ottawa a year ago.

Capt. A. B. Coulter, of Ottawa, and the veteran C.Q.M.S. Alex Parnell, of Verdun, Que., had aggregates of 100 each; Capt. A. W. Hunt, of Winnipeg; Lieut. H. D. Proctor, of Ottawa, and Lieut. A. P. Williams, of Ottawa, posted 99, and Lieut. Neal Dow, of Saint John, N.S.; Lieut. P. J. Martinson, of La Tuque; Sgt. C. Iddolls, of Calgary, and Lieut. Col. F. W. Sutton, of Toronto, qualified outright with 98's.

In addition, Lieut. Col. C. W. Gibson, of Hamilton; Sgt. F. Wallace, of Mount Dennis, and Cpl. E. E. Wright, of Montreal, are still in the running with 97's. Five of the thirteen are on the team for the first time—Penman, Coulter, Hunt, Williams and Wright.

Placings in the final are determined solely by the aggregate of the second stage and Saturday's wind-up of the historic match, first competed for at the opening of the meet seventy-five years ago.

CHEERED VICTORY
The whole camp cheered the victory of legless Lieut. C. A. Sutherland in the only other shot of the day, the Corporation of the City of London match, a tie between the former of the Black Watch, who lost both legs in the war, but never misses a Bley meet, posted a perfect score of 50 at the long range for service rifles of 1,000 yards to take the Silver Trophy and cash award of $40.

Best of the Canadians in this match was well back with 45—Lieut. Neal Dow, of Saint John.

Cheered by the showing in the first stage of the King's Prize, the Canadians will select a team of twelve to go out tomorrow afternoon and defend the MacKinnon Challenge Cup at the opening of the year ago was the sixth since the trophy was offered in 1891.

The rich Prince of Wales Prize at 300 and 600 yards, and The Daily Telegraph at 300 yards are also tomorrow's heavy programme.

Canada's qualifiers in the final stage of the important St. George's Challenge Vase, to be fired on Saturday, were increased to seven today, when Coulter, of Ottawa, managed to qualify in a tie-shoot for remaining places.

Miss Marjorie Foster, only woman who ever won the King's Prize, was the only one of four women who started today to qualify in the King's first stage. She had an even 100.

With the signing yesterday of Norman Forbes, star hurler of a decade ago, and Roy Copas, brilliant fly shagger of a few seasons back, Manager "Stuffy" McGinnis, boss of the Victoria Old-Timers, is busy lining up the players for the Wednesday's fixture with the Continental League All-Stars.

A number of the boys were on and for a practice yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park, and looked in first-class shape. Additional workouts tomorrow and Sunday and a light training session Tuesday will complete the pre-game practice.

TWENTY-TWO PLAYERS
Twenty-two players are now on the playing roster of the Victoria Old-Timers club, and judging by the way the boys are turning out for their workouts, they will be in great shape for the coming battle.

Larry Brunell, former trainer of the Victoria Cougars, a one-time world's hockey champion, has been retained by Manager McGinnis for his ball club. Brunell's work was partially responsible for the fine showing the Old-Timers made in the opening fixture, the genial boss stated yesterday evening.

Overlooked in the sixth event, Fair Allen came through to pay $42.40 for a $2 note ticket.

LALOMA WINS DERBY EVENT ON MAINLAND

Neely's Filly Leads Field to Wire in Brighthouse Track Feature

VANCOUVER, July 17 (P)—E. A. Neely's fully Laloma led the field to the wire in the Vancouver Derby today as the Brighthouse Park meeting drew to a close. The bangalis move to Hastings Park on Saturday for the first racing at that track this year.

Laloma was sent to the front at the start, opened a three-length lead under restraint and in the drive withstood successfully repeated challenges by the Prairie favorite, Marcia Doodle. Mar Pal, a distant trailer in the early stages, closed fast to finish third.

Joey, Prairie champion, established a new track record in the seventh race, covering the one mile and one-sixteenth distance in 1:44.

Overlooked in the sixth event, Fair Allen came through to pay $42.40 for a $2 note ticket.

FLIGHT...by W. D. TIPTON and J. H. MASONAIRPLANE FILLING STATIONS

ON MAY 18, AN AIRPLANE, OUT OF GAS, FORCED LANDING ON A HIGHWAY NEAR THE TETERBORO AIRPORT, NEW JERSEY, DEMOLISHING ITSELF AGAINST A MOTOR CAR WHICH WAS UNHURT.

THIS ACCIDENT SUGGESTS THE NEED OF EMERGENCY LANDING STRIPS, ADJACENT TO FILLING STATIONS, ON HIGHWAYS WHICH MANY PILOTS FOLLOW ON CROSS COUNTRY FLIGHTS.

TO STIMULATE PRIVATE FLYING THE DEPT. OF COMMERCE RECENTLY ORDERED AN EXPERIMENTAL PLANE POWERED BY A PLYMOUTH AUTO ENGINE. SUCH SHIPS WOULD BURN ORDINARY MOTOR GAS AND COULD USE THE REGULAR AUTO FILLING STATION FOR SERVICE.

WHEN private flying increases, and hence would use the ordinary filling station for service. These landing strips would be plotted on all air maps, which would show the direction of their long axis. Since airplanes should land and take-off with the wind, the pilot could pick the strip which would lie in the proper wind direction. Such landing strips would be needed when the new roadable and 2,000 feet long, and should be adjacent to filling stations. The popularly priced airplane should be able to use automobile gas and oil, and take to the air.

WITCH HAZEL
Never believe the obvious is a good rule for the careful student of words.
Attention to this guide would have saved one casual investigator the quick but incorrect conclusion that the expression witch hazel is a carry-over from the days when necromancers used the hazel twig to locate witches—an understandable but easily disprovable fallacy which a little study would have revealed. Witch hazel, as we know, is the name of a lotion distilled from the tree so called. The expression is the spawn of corruption and confusion.
The Old English word weice means a kind of elm. The Anglo-Saxon weice means a species of tree. And because the leaves of the weice looked like those of the hazel, it came to be written first wich-hazel, and then witch hazel.

Witch hazel should therefore really be wice-him, which would unscramble the rest, but since this cannot be done, we will simply let it go with the comment that anyway, that is how it started.

Marie Dressler had a colored maid, Jenny, a girl with a witty tongue. One day they had a long wait in a dull town. Everyone in the company was bored. A young man, invited Jenny to have a drink from his flask. She ignored the invitation.
"Oh, come on, now," he persisted. "You know you coons never refuse a drink."
Jenny just looked him coldly up and down, but still did not reply.
By this time the young fellow was red behind the ears. He had the grace to say: "My mistake. You'll excuse me, won't you, Jenny?"
"Yes, sah," said Jenny, sweetly. "You got a standin' excuse with me."

WILL INSTALL FLOOD LIGHTS

Tourist Trade Development Association to Improve Royal Athletic Park

Floodlighting of the Royal Athletic Park will be undertaken soon, the Trades and Labor Council was informed last night by T. H. Edick, secretary of the Tourist Trade Development Association.

Mr. Edick appeared before the council seeking its co-operation in connection with a celebration to be held here on Labor Day. During the course of his talk, he announced the plan to floodlight the Royal Athletic Park for a pageant to be held there about the middle of August.

The council, in connection with Mr. Edick's request for co-operation on Labor Day, referred the matter to the executive, with power to act.

The question of the city using relief men for maintenance work was discussed, but no action taken.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

IT PAYS TO LISTEN

A bridge player's ears will be of untold value to him if he keeps them wide open and listens to all phases of the bidding. Below is an example of a beautiful play made possible because the declarer paid attention to the bidding and based his conclusions on the minimum strength the opponents had to hold to make the bids they made.

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

3 ♠ (4) 4 ♠ (5) 4 ♠ (6) Pass
Pass Pass

1. This is a doubtful overall in a four-card suit, but with distributed strength East feared to pass.

2. Having passed originally, South could almost have bid two spades with so strong a major suit.

3. West explores the possibilities of the club suit before raising the hearts.

4. Now South jumps to show the strength of his hand.

5. Back to the heart suit. West would have been safer if he had raised the hearts the first time and shown his clubs afterwards.

6. It is obligatory for North at this point to show his spade support.

THE PLAY

South made his contract by drawing brilliant conclusions from the previous bidding, and the fall of the cards on the first few tricks. West opened the deuce of hearts and East won the ace, shifting to the deuce of clubs.

The queen fell to dummy's ace. South now reasoned that if the spade finesse lost and he was forced also to lose a diamond trick he would be down, and to avoid this contingency he had better start preparing for a throw-in play later.

He therefore led dummy's remaining heart. East played low and South performed the ten. West took the trick with the king and tried to cash the king of clubs, but South trumped.

South cashed the queen of hearts.

"SEQUOIA" FILM OF ANIMAL LIFE

Jeane Parker Plays Leading Role in Brilliant Drama at Playhouse Theatre

The highest altitude location ever attempted for a feature picture was the goal reached by the company which filmed "Sequoia" (pronounced "See-quo-yah"). California's nature story, in Sequoia National Park. The picture, in which Jeane Parker is featured, opens today at the Playhouse Theatre. Members of the cast and camera crew climbed to Heather Lake in the High Sierras, where they established camp at an elevation of more than 11,000 feet.

All equipment was "packed in" on mules and horses with special portable containers to protect film from the rigors of weather and changes in temperature.

While in the High Sierras region, thrilling panoramas of mountain scenery viewed only by the most intrepid climbers were filmed as a background for scenes of California wild life.

The story is based on the book, "Always," written by Vance Smith, famous naturalist. Chester Franklin directed.

Columbia Offers Zane Grey Film

Richard Dix, the star—Zane Grey, the author—the perfect team to film thrilling tales of the winning of the West.

Their talents have been combined before in the making of motion pictures, with great success. Now they have joined hands again and made "West of the Pecos" one of Grey's best stories of the old frontier, the current attraction at the Columbia Theatre.

No star in screen history has been as successful as Dix in creating the gallant characters of pioneer times. Always a specialist in this field, admired and beloved by film fans, he had South taken the spade finesse he would have lost his contract, for East could have won the king and exited with a low spade and later South would have had to come to his queen of diamonds, which would have been the setting trick.

North holds:
▲ A K
▲ Q J 5 4 3
▲ A K J 5 3

South starts the bidding with one diamond. North responds with two hearts. South jumps to four diamonds, getting four no trump from North. South then bids five no trump. With the hand above, what is North's next bid? See our explanation of tomorrow.

DODGES CENSOR BY TUB ROUTE

Austrian Readers Go Wet for Sake of National Censorship Rule

VIENNA (AP).—Bathtub reading is a widespread literary diversion in Austria, too; but the technique differs slightly from that followed in most other countries.

Whereas the ordinary bathtub reader in Canada takes his literature into the bathtub with him, and finishes a story while soaking himself in warm water, the Austrian bathtub reader does just the opposite.

That is, he first throws his magazine into the bathtub, turns on the water and looks around for a comfortable armchair in which to seat himself. Then, after twenty minutes or so, he takes his literature out of the bathtub and finishes his reading.

STRANGE RITUAL

It is the censorship which causes him to practise this strange ritual. The Austrian censor's duty compels him to prevent the circulation of illegal literature. Sometimes only one or two pages of a foreign magazine or illustrated weekly enjoying wide distribution in Austria look politically offensive. So the censor compromises and lets the foreign periodical come in after the offending pages have been pasted together.

The paste soon dissolves in the bath water, the pages come unstuck and the magazine is ready to read. Pictures likely to bring an illustrated weekly into contact with the political paste bucket usually are photographs of German military parades or functions where the Swastika flag is prominently displayed; cartoons poking fun at Mussolini; Austria's powerful friend; or cartoons disrespectful of dictatorial government in general.

Concerning Welcome Robin
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"Just between you and me, Peter Rabbit, I think the Bluebirds show more sense in nest building than do their cousins, the Robins. There is nothing like a house with stout walls and a doorway just big enough to get in and out of comfortably."

Peter nodded quite as if he understood all about the advantages of a house with walls. "That reminds me," said he, "the other day I saw Welcome Robin getting mud and is just sticks and clean straw and feathers." Welcome Robin is a fine looking and a fine singer, and everybody loves him, but when it comes to housekeeping he and Mrs. Robin are just plain dirty. They make the foundation of their nest of mud—plain, common, ordinary mud. They cover this with dead grass, and sometimes there is mighty little of it over the inside walls of mud. Anyone with eyes at all can find their nest. More than once I have known them to lose it in a heavy rain, or to have it blow down in a high wind. Nothing like this ever happens to Winsome Bluebird or me."

Welcome Robin flew down on the ground, and after running a few steps stood still with his head on one side as if listening. Then he reached down and tugged at something, and presently out of the ground came a long, wriggling angleworm. Welcome swallowed it, listened again, then ran three or four steps to the right, where he pulled another worm out of the ground.

"He acts as if he heard those worms in the ground," said Peter Rabbit. "He does," said Jenny Wren. "How do you suppose he would find them if he didn't hear them?" "Can you hear them?" asked Peter.

"I've never tried," retorted Jenny. "Welcome Robin may enjoy eating them, but for my part I want something smaller and daintier. Like young grasshoppers, little caterpillars, bugs and spiders."

Peter had to turn his head aside to hide the wry face he just had to make at the thought of such things for food.
